MEMORANDUM

Date: April 3, 2025

To: Fiscal Oversight Commission From: Pamela Swan, Grants Coordinator

Amy Ricard, Community Resources Manager

Subject: 2025 Community Spaces Matching Grant Program Assessment & Recommendations

REQUESTED ACTION

Receive a report on the current status of the Community Spaces Matching Grant Program and a proposed revised approach based on an assessment of the pilot program and recent funding cycles and provide feedback.

SUMMARY

Since its inception, Ag + Open Space has continuously worked to increase the impact and efficiency of the Community Spaces Matching Grant Program. Over the last few cycles, we have learned much about the changing needs of the community, the interests of our Board, and the type of process that would best meet both.

The current competitive process is extensive, time-consuming, and results in several new projects being activated at one time. It is important to engage in this intensive process when it is being used to make challenging funding recommendations based on a limited budget amount. Yet, in the last three cycles, despite staff and advisory body recommendations to partially fund some projects, the Board has prioritized full funding for all grant requests, exceeding budget amounts they had previously authorized for each cycle. In 2024, the first year of a 2-year rolling application pilot program, the Board committed $6.8M – $800,000 more than the $6M authorized for both 2024 and 2025, the entirety of the pilot program. Staff fully understands and supports the Board's interest in maximizing our ability to help realize these critical community projects; however, we no longer feel that a competitive process is the best way to do so.

Instead, staff proposes that we use the Board-approved guidelines, evaluation criteria, and selection matrix to evaluate individual projects on a true rolling basis, as we do with traditional conservation easement acquisition projects. Shifting from the competitive process would give staff more time to conduct outreach to priority communities, build awareness and relationships, and support partners and community organizations in developing Community Spaces projects that are ready to implement when they apply for funding. This process would still employ the same level of scrutiny when evaluating projects, but the process would be more streamlined and create a more even and steady cadence of new projects.

Staff further proposes that there would no longer be a specific budget amount for a given year or cycle. The Advisory Committee and Fiscal Oversight Commission would review projects, and the Board would evaluate and accept them individually throughout each fiscal year in consideration of available revenue, other current acquisition commitments, unencumbered obligations, and organizational priorities.

This recommended approach maximizes the support and technical assistance staff can provide to community project proponents, honors our guidelines and transparent evaluation process, is financially prudent, and provides our advisory bodies and Board of Directors more time and flexibility in selecting and funding individual projects.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

Evaluation Process

- The competitive evaluation process is designed to objectively evaluate projects to make tough funding recommendations based on Board-approved guidelines and budget amounts
- It takes at least six months to launch, evaluate projects, and present funding recommendations to the Board
 - This comprehensive process involves staff, the Advisory Committee, Fiscal Oversight Commission, and several public meetings

A competitive evaluation process is unnecessary if we are not using that process to make tough financial decisions based upon a limited budget amount

- Funding cycle deadlines incentivize application submittal prior to project readiness, tying up staff and financial resources prematurely and delaying project completion
- Average project tenure (from acceptance into the program to completion of the project) is 6.5 years, which exceeds initial grant terms and requires extensions, impacting staff capacity and delaying project delivery

REASONS FOR RECOMMENDED NEW APPROACH

Increases impact and efficiency of the Community Spaces Matching Grant Program by:

- Incentivizing applicants to apply when projects are ready, not rushing to meet unnecessary deadlines
 - Truly ready projects deliver open space to community faster
 - Funding and implementing ready projects help scale project management and planning
 - Applicants will still be able to apply anytime this year and in the future when their project is ready
- Following a process that reflects our shared commitment to fiscal prudency and accountability by taking into consideration existing funding commitments and projected revenues
- Freeing up more time for staff to focus on active and emerging projects
- Eliminates conflicts among projects when several new projects are activated at the same time

Why Now?

- Community-based organizations, non-profits, and public agencies are making us aware of future projects, so we want to communicate changes to potential applicants as soon as possible
- Removing the pressure of deadlines allows organizations to focus on getting projects truly ready before applying for funding
- We want to dedicate staff time that would have been used launching the cycle and conducting the evaluation process this year to providing technical assistance to support development of new projects
- A break in "funding cycles" would allow staff to make greater progress in addressing the backlog of current active projects (see Exhibit 1)
- Fiscal Oversight Commission and Advisory Committee members are questioning the need for the in-depth, time-consuming evaluation process if funding recommendations are set aside
- We are actively spending down the fund balance, so it is critical that all funding decisions are informed by available revenue and obligations (see table below) and other priority projects (see Exhibit 2)

With 26 active CE projects As of December 31, 2024 and 28 active CSMGP Cash by Fund projects, we will spend this $60,836,919 OSSTA – Measure F down very quickly. 1,951,776 Ag + Open Space 7,500,000 AOS Reserve Cooley Reserve 166,606 IPAOM Available 13,550,417 We have pledged over Total Cash $84,005,718 $25M in CSMGP Unencumbered Obligations funds, with more Community Spaces Matching Grant Program Active Projects $25,046,855 projects on the way.

Next Steps

As the Board of Directors makes the final decision of which projects are accepted into the Community Spaces Matching Grant Program with associated funding amounts, and the process to determine a project's acceptance into the program, staff will consider the feedback from the Fiscal Oversight Commission when it brings a revised approach to our Board of Directors at a future board meeting.
